

EIGHT DIVORCE DECREES GRANTED

Judge Armstrong Unhitches Mismatched Couples From Galling Bonds of Matrimony.

TALES OF DESERTION TOLD

John A. Jones, Acquitted of Murder, Refused Legal Separation From Wife.

Judge George G. Armstrong presided at the district court divorce matinee Friday, granting eight interlocutory decrees and denying one. For the greater part, stories of desertion and failure to provide were told by those who obtained their decrees.

John A. Jones, acquitted slayer of Arthur F. Sheppard, appeared for the second time in a district court to relate the story of his wife's shame. In his suit for divorce he charged Velmey Jones with intimacy with Arthur F. Sheppard and recited in detail the meetings of the couple. Judge Armstrong held that the specific charge had not been proven and denied the application for divorce. The court, however, granted counsel for Jones permission to file an amended complaint and the case will be brought up again on the grounds of cruelty on the part of the wife. Judge Armstrong said that it was evident that this should have been the specific charge in the present complaint. The defendant will not appear to oppose the suit and has signified her intention of permitting it to be granted by default.

SELLS FURNITURE AND DEPARTS

Anna Lettinger testified that while living at Coaldale, Canada, she left her home on Nov. 8, 1908, to visit her mother for two weeks. On her return she found that her husband, Louis Lettinger, had disposed of the household furniture and departed for parts unknown. Since that time she has heard nothing of him. They were married at Stirling, Canada, April 25, 1904. The court granted an interlocutory decree of divorce.

According to the story told by Louisa Shaub her husband, David Shaub, deserted her on December 5, 1909. On that date the defendant left for New Jersey, and although she has written to him repeatedly he has ignored her appeals to return. She said that since that time she has been sick at times and compelled to rely on the charity of friends and of the county.

Charles W. Coye would have found it impossible to appear and oppose the suit for divorce filed by his wife, Rosey Gardner Coye. He is serving a four to seven year sentence in the Colorado state prison at Canyon City, Colo. Mrs. Coye was granted a decree of divorce with permission to resume her maiden name of Gardner. The couple were married in Salt Lake, June 30, 1909, and soon thereafter their dreams of married life were disturbed by the arrest and conviction of Coye as a thief. He served six months in the county jail here and on his release went to Denver, where within a few days later he was arrested on a charge of grand larceny and sent to the state prison.

FARMINGTON MISTAKE RECTIFIED

Another Farmington mistake was rectified by Judge Armstrong. In securing her decree of divorce from Robert Curran, Wilma F. Curran told the simple tale of desertion. The couple were married at Farmington on May 15, 1907, and one day in September, 1908, the defendant left their home without even a goodbye and has never returned. Mabel McKelvey was awarded a decree of divorce from James R. McKelvey and the custody of a minor child. They were married in November, 1901, and in August, 1908, the defendant deserted her and left her to take care of their little boy.

From the story told by the wife, Vannetta W. Walton, her little boy, the baby born recently, the babe was born five months ago and he has never even called at the home since that time. They were married in Logan June 20, 1909, but the affections of the husband began to wane a year ago. The court ordered the defendant to pay $20 a month alimony.

Minnie A. Jensen was awarded a decree of divorce from Lawrence L. Jensen on the grounds of failure to provide. The divorce carried with it $20 a month alimony. The couple were married Dec. 12, 1905, and during the period of their married life the wife was compelled to work to obtain food for the house and her own clothing.

BENCH WARRANT ORDERED

Judge Armstrong granted the order for the issuance of a bench warrant to bring William R. Russell, colored, into court to show cause why he should not pay his wife the temporary alimony granted under the order of the court. The defendant failed to appear in court and the action of Judge Armstrong was the result.

Claudiva Pawson asked the court Friday to dismiss the order that had been secured to make the defendant, William A. Pawson, show cause why he should not pay temporary alimony. The defendant came up for hearing last week and at that time it was shown that Pawson had provided about $250 for his wife and two children since the couple separated in September. The wife's complaint for a divorce is still on the court docket, though the husband has made attempt at reconciliation.

Louise Holberg had her husband brought before the court Friday to show cause why he had failed to pay $5 a week awarded as alimony. The divorce was secured in January, this year, and Holberg showed that she had been paying $4 a week on an average, and that he could do little better out of his wages of $5 a week. The court took under advisement his request for a modification of the decree.

WANTS $10,000 DAMAGES

Collision of Street Car With Lumber Wagon Responsible for Suit.

The accident of Oct. 7, this year, at First South and Third West streets, when in a collision between a street car and a lumber wagon a number of passengers were injured, is responsible for another suit being filed in the district court. Helvie Moore, eight years of age, by her guardian, ad litem, Mrs. Nellie Moore, asks $10,000 damages from the Utah Light & Railroad company for injuries alleged to have been caused by being thrown violently against a car seat.

The plaintiff alleges negligence on the part of the company in not providing proper and adequate safety appliances for the car so that it could be stopped promptly. The complaint alleges further that the plaintiff sustained a badly lacerated left leg and arm and that she received a nervous shock which has seriously impaired her health. The plaintiff avers that she believes the injuries are permanent and therefore asks for $10,000 damages.

RHEUMATISM PAINFUL & DANGEROUS

Rheumatism is due to a diseased condition of the blood cells and corpuscles, brought about by an excess of uric acid in the circulation. It is not only a very painful disease but an extremely dangerous trouble. The uric, acid state of the blood gradually forms a coating over the muscles, and by depositing a cement-like substance in the joints frequently terminates fatally, or leaves its victim a hopeless cripple. It is natural to "doctor" the spot that hurts, and it is quite right to use liniments, hot applications, etc., to get temporary relief from a painful joint or swollen tendon; but Rheumatism is not a skin disease, and such things, when depended on alone make one careless, and the disease gets a firmer hold on the blood. S. S. S. cures the disease because it is the greatest of all blood purifiers. It goes into the circulation, and removes every particle of the irritating uric acid, builds up the blood, makes it rich and oily, and in this way prepares it for the proper nourishment of all joints, muscles, nerves and bones. If you have Rheumatism, get the uric acid out of the blood by taking S. S. S., a purely vegetable medicine, and enjoy freedom from its misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

SHOCKED BY ELECTRICITY.

Miss Ora Gill, 19 years old, was severely shocked by electricity yesterday afternoon as she answered a telephone call in the store of Mrs. M. J. Hardin, near the O. S. L. depot. The shock was of sufficient voltage to render Miss Gill unconscious for some time and necessitated the calling of Dr. Wilcox who administered treatment. The hand in which she was holding the telephone receiver was severely burned, it is said.

course in a large Philadelphia hospital before she came to Salt Lake, and she has been offered a splendid place there again. It is understood that the former nurses at the St. Mark's and the St. Mary's Alum association held a meeting last night to arrange for some sort of testimonial to the worth and esteem in which Mrs. Crossland is held here. It is understood that the Catholic sisters will take charge of the work at the Judge Mercy hospital that Mrs. Crossland is now in charge of.

CHAUFFEUR ESCAPES ARREST.

An unknown woman came to grief yesterday afternoon by the carelessness of the driver of the automobile owned by Mrs. Edward Kimball, and while she was knocked down at First South and Main streets, she was only slightly bruised. The chauffeur, who drove into the woman as she attempted to cross the street, was not arrested. The police made no examination as to why this had not been done.

BOY BITTEN BY DOG.

Lowery Anderson, 8 years old, who lives near Dr. Groves L. D. S. hospital, was bitten by a vicious dog yesterday afternoon as he was playing in a sandpit with some other children. The teeth of the animal tore into the fleshy part of the boy's cheek and may have injured one of his eyes. The boy was taken to the hospital nearby and attended by his uncle, Dr. S. H. Allen.

among minor children, met this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the office of Supt. D. H. Christensen of the city schools.

It is held that physical and mental deficiency is depriving a number of children in the state of a common school education. The movement contemplates the early learning of the names and addresses of such children, the parents' names, the ages of such children, the school grade to which they last were promoted, their school grade if properly classified and the adopting of a type of classification for such children.

At the session this afternoon all these matters came in for a thorough discussion and work will commence soon in obtaining the necessary data. G. S. Gibbs has been at work in the city for some time in making a deficiency report on the Salt Lake school children. It has been shown that a number of children are

UNIFORM ACCOUNTS SYSTEM.

Board of Education May Adopt Special-Case System.

A new system of keeping the books of the department will likely be decided on soon by the finance committee of the board of education. Harlan Updegraff, specialist on school administration of the national bureau of education, who is now in Salt Lake attending the conference of state superintendents, will be consulted with regard to the matter. Prof. Updegraff is seeking to have a uniform system of accounting adopted in the schools throughout the United States.

"It is a remarkable fact," said Mr. Updegraff last night, "that about one-third of all the money received from local taxation in the United States is spent for school purposes, and yet the systems of accounting are simply awful. This is the only way it can be expressed. As a matter of fact, there is no system in many places. Large sums of money are received and expended without any accurate system of accounting being attempted."

"What I am working for and hope to achieve is to establish a uniform and complete system of accounting throughout the country, especially in the larger cities. When this is accomplished, we will be able to draw comparisons between the different cities, counties and states and to do this upon some accurate basis. This will be interesting to the hundreds of thousands interested in education. At the present time the really vital things in school education in cities cannot be tabulated as to finances for the reason that the same items are not taken into account and the systems of ac-
